*Complicated Pieces

Complicated pieces can incur additional charges depending on the time that they take. A complicated ring with twisting or multiple strands that need cleaning from the raw casting can be 2 -4 times as much as a simple piece. These charges are incurred on a case by case basis.

Stone Breakage

Customer is responsible for stone breakage. A very small percentage of stones break during setting, it is infrequent, but it does occassionally happen, particularly with included (i1-) stones or princess cuts. It is recommended that customer take out insurance if sending in an expensive stone for setting.

Repairs

Working on pieces manufactured by others is difficult work. Sometimes, when we start to work on pieces more problems are uncovered. Porosity can open up, stones can fall out. We can not be responsible for problems that occur during the repair process and will charge according to the work that is done. We will communciate any issues as soon as we become aware of them. Finally, we can not be responsible for pieces that were not manufactured by us after repair. For example, if a stone falls out after we have repaired a chain or something unrelated, we can not be resoponsible.
